"Celebrating Art and Agriculture" is a juried art show and Paint-Out which seeks to highlight the beauty and importance of local agricultural activities and their heritage in Granby and the Farmington Valley. Working farms, orchards, vineyards and other agricultural enterprises nourish us in many ways - at the table, through the natural viewscapes they preserve, and through the connection they provide us to the land. The Granby Land Trust seeks to promote our local farms through this year's Art Show and Paint-Out.
